Who Said Training Isn't Fun?

Our nurse will come to your venue to deliver face to face, interactive training in a fun and engaging way.

We make people smile and laugh using activities & games.

This gets the best out of your staff helping them to learn and retain more information.

The Best Way to Learn is Through Fun

It's not just about learning today

It's about remembering it tomorrow

The session runs for 4.5 hours, including breaks, and a 30 minute lunch break. Break times allow people to digest the information and take a mental break to reenergise and learn more.

In order for the session to run smoothly, the nurse will require a plug socket for the projector and the WiFi code.

But don't worry, we want bore anyone to death with a PowerPoint!

We've Got You Covered

Our company is Skills for Care Endorsed

Skills for Care are the only organisation recommended by CQC, so their endorsement means a lot!

Our company is Accredited

Accreditation means our courses have passed a tough set of inspection to meet a high standard of quality marks. Not everyone can become accredited, but we spend that extra time and effort, ensuring you receive the quality your staff deserve.

Your session includes the following

- What is the difference between moving & handling and manual handling
- Understanding UK law including LOLER 1998, Manual Handling Operations Regulations 1992, PUWER 1998 and many more
- Learning employee and employer responsibilities
- Understanding how to risk assessing procedures
- Using the TILE/LITE acronym for safe manual handling
- Reviewing the condemned moving and handling maneuvers
- Understanding the results of poor practice
- Practically using and understanding hoists, stand aids, rotundas, slide sheets, assisting people off the floor and more.

Your course, your way

Included within the course is a bespoke set of learning outcomes to ensure your staff have the knowledge to not only become compliant but competent too.

All our sessions can be tailored by you for free. This means you can remove certain topics and add extra ones which suit your staff.

Each business is different, being able to tailor your training to your needs is just another part of our commitment to you.
